Global Manufacturer “Gears Up” for Compliance in 23 Countries

A global manufacturer based in North America was expanding its on-the-ground operations and needed to ensure that it was in compliance with the local laws and regulations in 23 Central and South American countries.

With one phone call to Lex Mundi’s member firm in Arizona, the client initiated a comprehensive compliance assessment “check-up” for each jurisdiction.

Within one month’s time, Lex Mundi member firms provided the client with critical business information for each of the 23 countries, one invoice for all services rendered, and a seamless solution with controlled and predictable costs. This project would not have been possible without the global legal network made available through Lex Mundi.

Satisfied with the success of the project, the client has since turned to Lex Mundi for other networked solutions to keep its global operations running smoothly.
