Successful Client Solutions

Seven Lex Mundi Member Firms Assist Global Tech Company with Cross-Border Transaction on Four Continents

NCR Corporation (NCR) is a US-based global provider of omni-channel solutions including computer hardware, software and services. NCR is well known for its self-service kiosks, point-of-sale terminals, automated teller machines, check processing systems, barcode scanners, and business consumables.

NCR decided to sell its interactive printer solutions division (IPS), with worldwide operations, assets and employees. As a long-time client of Womble Carlyle Sandridge & Rice, LLP, the Lex Mundi member firm for USA, North Carolina, they knew they would be able to handle this global matter in an excellent manner. Due to the multi-jurisdictional nature of this transaction, Womble Carlyle tapped into the Lex Mundi network as they began to build their team. The firms involved were:

- Womble Carlyle Sandridge & Rice, LLP: USA, North Carolina (lead firm)
- Bass, Berry & Sims PLC: USA, Tennessee
- Basham, Ringe y Correa, S.C.: Mexico
- Gide: France
- Claro & Cia., Abogados: Chile
- Simpson Grierson: New Zealand
- Afridi & Angell: United Arab Emirates

The matter required complex advice due to the transaction structure and multijurisdictional nature of the operations. Each jurisdiction required documents that with very specific provisions and varied from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. The team addressed the transfer of the assets, real estate, employment and various merger laws. All of the Lex Mundi member firms worked closely together in providing counsel and provided critical and timely legal advice.
